

AN OPEN DISCUSSION For Black/African American Women

Open to Black/African women nationwide who have or have had a breast, ovarian, or any gynecological cancer diagnosis.

Wednesday, April 12, 2023
7 - 8pm (NY time) ~ Zoom Video Conference

Pre-registration is required. To register, call Support Connection at 914-962-6402 or 800-532-4290.

Must register no later than 5 pm (NY time) on Tuesday April 11th.

Space is limited to ensure a meaningful discussion. Please register early if interested.

Thank you.

Support Connection recognizes that a cancer diagnosis brings unique issues, concerns, and considerations to women in the Black/African American community.

We invite you to join us for an open discussion, which will be co-facilitated by a Support Connection peer counselor and Ebony-Joy Igbinoba, one of Support Connection's 2022 Support-A-Walk Ambassadors.

This is an opportunity to connect with other Black/African American women coping with questions such as:

- How to advocate: Feeling marginalized in the medical community? Facing racial and gender discrimination when addressing cancer care needs as a Black/African American woman? How to educate your medical team regarding unique cultural needs.
- Medical mistrust: Feeling confident your medical team is recommending best treatment options available to all, regardless of race or socioeconomic status.
- Managing finances during a cancer diagnosis. What resources can help?
- Managing Emotional issues due to a cancer diagnosis. Where to find support?

All topics of interest are welcome.

This is not an educational forum. It is a discussion group where concerns, experiences, and information can be exchanged.
